ASSEMBLY BILL

No. 206

Introduced by Assembly Member Hertzberg

February 4, 1997

An act to add Chapter 5.1 (commencing with Section 8321) to Division 1 of Title 2 of the Government Code, relating to state government.

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

AB 206, as amended, Hertzberg. Citizen Complaint Act of 1997.

Existing law provides for the establishment and operation of state agencies.

This bill would require state agencies, including the California State University, to make available on their Internet web sites, on or before July 1, 1998, or within 6 months of the establishment of such a site, whichever is later, a plain language form through which individuals can register complaints or comments relating to the performance of that state agency. This bill would require state agencies making a complaint form available on their Internet web sites, to the extent feasible, to advise individuals calling to lodge a complaint of specified information and to include their Internet web site address in the telephone directory. This bill would also authorize public libraries, to the extent permitted through donations and other means, to provide Internet access to their patrons and to advertise that they provide Internet access. These provisions would be known as the Citizen Complaint Act of 1997. This bill would require all state agencies that have Internet web sites to implement these provisions in a manner that is consistent with the statewide strategy for electronic commerce as established by the Department of Information Technology.

Vote: majority. Appropriation: no. Fiscal committee: yes. State-mandated local program: no.
